A Visitor's Guide

Welcome to Gros Morne National Park

Dear Visitor,

I grew up in one of the communities adjacent to Gros Morne National Park, and have always been proud of the tradition of hospitality that is strongly rooted in this spectacularly beautiful place that I call home. In working together to welcome the world, the adjacent communities and Parks Canada are helping to ensure the long-term sustainability of our region. We're delighted that you're part of our success!

From the range of tourism services available to the amazing arts festivals that are among the best of their kind in Canada, I am confident you will find your own unique way to experience Gros Morne. Allow me to offer some personal recommendations! Lobster Cove Head Lighthouse is one of my favourite spots in the park. It's a magical place where the sunsets literally paint the ocean orange. Many of Gros Morne's geological sites are as beautiful and awe-inspiring as they are world famous. Take a guided walk on the Tablelands or talk to a Parks Canada interpreter at Green Point. You'll discover why these and other features in the park helped to earn Gros Morne National Park's place on UNESCO's World Heritage list.

Also, don't miss the opportunity to visit two other UNESCO World Heritage Sites - both within a day's travel north of the park. Meet costumed interpreters at L'Anse aux Meadows National Historic Site who will explain how the Norse became the first Europeans to reach North America more than 1000 years ago. At the Red Bay Basque Whaling Station in southern Labrador, you will glimpse the 400-year-old story of Basque whalers who set sail across the Atlantic to seek their fortune. On the way, stop at Port au Choix National Historic Site, one of Canada's most fascinating Aboriginal sites. Here, drawn by the sea's bounty, Newfoundland's first inhabitants visited this area starting more than 5500 years ago!

On behalf of Parks Canada, I invite you to explore these exceptional examples of Canada's national and international heritage treasures.

Geoffrey Hancock
Field Unit Superintendent
Parks Canada

Tuckamore is the Newfoundland word for the stunted trees that grow along the coast and in alpine areas. Frost and wind nip back the trees' exposed branches, giving them their wind-swept profile.

A World Heritage Site

The spectacular landscape of Gros Morne National Park tells the story of the Earth's transformation. The rocks and geologic features exposed within this place are the result of continents colliding. They have helped define and provide some of the world's best illustrations of plate tectonic theory.

Gros Morne National Park
inscribed on the World
Heritage List in 1987

Parc national du Gros-Morne inscrit sur la Liste du patrimoine mondial en 1987

"With your two feet you'll be spanning over 500 million years of Earth history and I think that's pretty incredible."
Penny Morrill, Dept of Earth Science, Memorial University

As a UNESCO World Heritage Site, this place ranks among our planet's most significant natural areas. The rocks of Gros Morne were once part of an ancient ocean and later thrust up to form the Appalachian Mountains as two continents collided. More recently in geological terms, glaciers carved this place creating the spectacular landscape we see today and exposing the rock for scientific study.

Gros Morne National Park qualifies as a World Heritage Site for its:

- > "exceptional natural beauty", and
- > "outstanding examples representing major stages of Earth's history".

Bones of the Earth

During this one-hour audio documentary, the voices of geologists, community residents, artists and poets reveal the meanings of the landscape and rocks. This audio journey brings you through Gros Morne's significant geological features, building the grand story of the evolution of the earth and the process of plate tectonics.

> Download the World Heritage podcast, "Bones of the Earth" at parkscanada.gc.ca

Former Fjords

Glaciers carved the massive cliffs of Western Brook Pond as ice bit through this 1.2 billion-year-old block of granite and gneiss. Get a close up view of this spectacular landscape on the Western Brook Pond boat tour.

Tropical Sea Floor

Around Bonne Bay, the pink quartzite mountaintops and limestone cliffs were once sandy beaches and tropical reefs that formed the shoreline of an ancient ocean. For a closer view, take a cruise on the Bonne Bay boat tour.

Ocean Floor Upturned

The Tablelands are a slice of ancient ocean floor. The orange-brown rock is one of the best and most accessible examples of exposed mantle material in the world. Pick up a map and explore on your own or, participate in the daily interpretive hike.

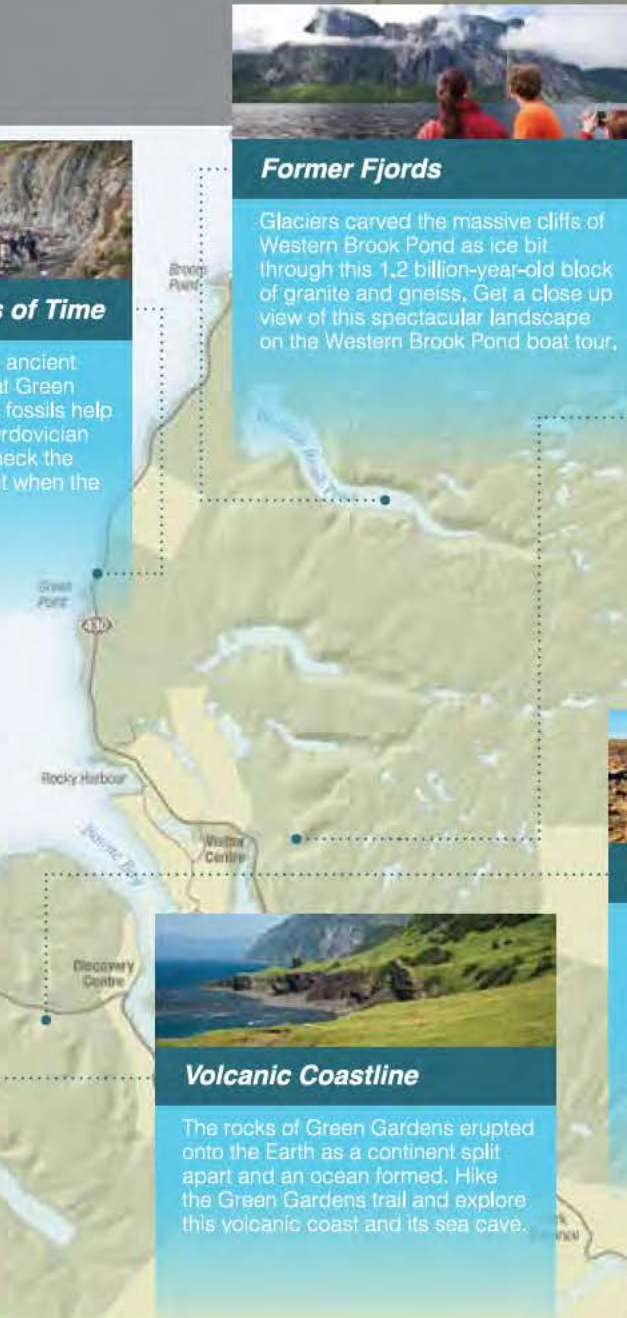

Green Point - Layers of Time

Formed at the bottom of an ancient ocean, the layers of shale at Green Point contain fossils. These fossils help define the Cambrian and Ordovician periods. Discover more. Check the schedule of events and visit when the naturalist is on site.

Volcanic Coastline

The rocks of Green Gardens erupted onto the Earth as a continent split apart and an ocean formed. Hike the Green Gardens trail and explore this volcanic coast and its sea cave.

Some of our best

Best Short Walks

Lobster Cove Head - Follow a series of pathways to cliff top look-offs. Stairs let you access the rocky shores.

Tablelands - 4 km walk across the exotic serpentine barrens and alien geology of the Earth's mantle. For a shorter walk opt for the Serpentine Loop (500 m).

Steve's Trail - trail leads to a seaside meadow with panoramic views of the park's northern coastline and the Long Range Mountains.

Berry Hill - this short trail leads to several viewpoints atop Berry Hill, where you can enjoy spectacular vistas of the park's coastal lowlands.

Berry Head Pond Trail - follow this trail through a mix of wetlands, ponds, and dense forests typical of the park's coastal lowlands. (First 350m is wheelchair accessible.)

Best Hikes

Gros Morne Mountain - hike to the park's highest point. The summit is home to arctic hare, rock ptarmigan, and arctic-alpine plants.

Green Gardens - descends to a spectacular coastline of cliffs, sea stacks, and the lush meadows of Green Gardens.

Lookout Trail - climbs 300 m to one of the best panoramic vistas in the park – spectacular views of Bonne Bay, Gros Morne Mountain, and the Tablelands.

Lomond River - traces its way through a sheltered valley along the Lomond River.

Trout River Pond - Set in a steep-sided valley, follow the shore of Trout River Pond into the heart of the Tablelands.

Long Range and North Rim Traverse - challenging and spectacular multi-day hiking routes onto the Long Range Mountains.

Picture Perfect Roadside Look-offs

Southeast Hills - 33 km south of Rocky Harbour on Route 430. Highest road side viewpoint with 360 degree view of the Long Range Mountains. (Best in morning or evening light)

Jenniex House - 5 km from the Visitor centre on the road into Norris Point. A spectacular view over Bonne Bay and across to the Tablelands. (Best in morning light)

Trout River Pond - on road to Trout River campground. Amazing panoramic views of the Tablelands and Trout River Pond. (Best in late afternoon or evening light)

Long Range lookoff - 2 km north of Shallow Bay on route 430. Expansive view of the coastal lowlands and Long Range Mountains. (Best in late afternoon or evening light)

Gull Rocks - 10 km south of Rocky Harbour on Route 430. Views across the East Arm of Bonne Bay towards the Tablelands. (Best in morning light)

Top Coastal Experiences

Explore the tidepools at Lobster Cove Head - at low tide head to its rocky shore and discover the creatures that live in the amazing world of tidepools.

Bonne Bay Marine Station - Aquarium Tours let you see local marine life and get your hands wet in the touch tank.

Shallow Bay Beach - a 4 km long sandy beach, great for exploring, bird watching and swimming on warm summer days.

Coastal Trail - It's a perfect trail for enjoying coastal landscapes, ocean breezes, and sunsets.

Kayak or Cruise Bonne Bay - head to the waterfront of Norris Point and book a boat or kayak tour of Bonne Bay.

Trout River - walk the waterfront boardwalk of this fishing community. Visit the nearby Fisherman's Museum and busy fisherman's wharf.

The Tablelands

Visit the Tablelands of Gros Morne, one of the few places where Earth's mantle is revealed.

Pushed in place as continents collided almost half a billion years ago, its orange weathered rock is from the middle layer of the Earth. Shaped by glaciers less than 15,000 years ago, today few plants grow in the Tablelands' toxic soils. This barren landscape is one of the best examples of the Earth's mantle – exposed to you the way few have seen it.

Where rocks mark time

Green Point

Explore Green Point's seaside cliffs, a beautiful and intriguing sequence of layered rocks.

Almost 500 million years ago, these rocks formed on the bottom of an ancient ocean. Here geologists have discovered fossil graptolites and conodonts. Fossils that define the boundary between the Cambrian and Ordovician periods and makes Green Point a world geological benchmark.

Located off route 430, 500 m north of the Green Point campground.

A short pathway leads to the shoreline for close up views of the rocks or follow the cliff top pathway to a spectacular view over the point. Discover more, visit when a naturalist is on site. Best visited at low tide.

For your safety, watch for falling rocks and stay back from the cliff edge.

CYCLING

There are no specifically designed bike trails in Gros Morne but bikes are permitted on the Old Mail Road and Stuckless Pond trail. The Old Mail Road is suitable for all riders while mountain bikers may wish to check out the Stuckless Pond trail and the 11 km of looped ski trails near the Visitor Centre. The cabin access roads across the highway from the Visitor Centre is a favourite of local riders. It has great views of Gros Morne and the Long Range Mountains, and Eastern Arm Pond.

Creative Gros Morne

Take time to connect with the culture and heritage of the Gros Morne region. Enjoy performances of traditional music and stories to professional theatre. Look for festivals, special events, art exhibits, and shops of local artisans and explore the local culture with the people who call it home.

Discovery Centre Art Gallery

See Wild Pure Aesthetic Wonder, an exhibit of contemporary and innovative fibre art inspired by the natural wonders of Gros Morne National Park. Through the sensual and practical pleasures of craft materials, human creativity, age old skills and new technologies, artists have conveyed an enhanced experience of the Park's natural wonders.

Wildlife

TOP 10 WILDLIFE SIGHTINGS

Caribou - native; 0.8-1.6 m high at the shoulder; dark brown in summer but light brown to white from fall to spring. In summer, commonly seen on the Long Range Mountains but frequent lowland bogs during fall and winter.

Moose - introduced; largest member of the deer family, 1.4-2.1 m high at the shoulder. Often seen along roadsides and trails, particularly around dawn and dusk. Drive carefully.

Arctic Hare - native; largest member of the hare family; grey in summer and white in winter. Lives in the park's arctic-alpine barrens and regularly seen on Gros Morne Mountain.

Snowshoe Hare - introduced; smaller than the Arctic hare; brown in summer and white in winter. Live in the lowland forests and commonly seen in campgrounds and along lowland trails.

Rock Ptarmigan - native; grey in summer and white in winter. Lives all year in the park's arctic-alpine barrens. Regularly seen on Gros Morne Mountain.

Bald Eagle - native; adults have distinctive white head, wingspans of 1.8-2.3 m. Regularly seen around Bonne Bay.

Coyote - new arrival; about the size of a German shepherd but is grey or reddish grey with a whitish throat and belly. Found throughout the park and mostly nocturnal.

Black Bear - native; found throughout the park but seen infrequently. Bears are wary of people but they are attracted by food. Keep yourself safe: do not leave food or garbage lying around. Report all bear sightings to park staff.

Red Fox - native; red, black, silver, or a mixture of colours but all have the distinctive white tip on the tail. Often seen along roadsides and common throughout the park.

Minke Whale - native; baleen whale; 6-10 m in length. Often seen in Bonne Bay from late spring to fall.

DID YOU KNOW?

With the island's isolation from the North American mainland, there are only 14 native mammals and no native amphibians or reptiles.

KEEP THEM WILD & STAY SAFE

- > Don't approach wildlife. Give them space and respect.
- > Use binoculars or a telephoto lens for that close up view.
- > Keep the animal's line of travel or escape route clear.
- > Back away slowly if the animal shows signs of aggression or approaches you.
- > Don't feed animals. A fed animal becomes a dead animal.
- > Always practise proper food storage.

Signs of success

Resource Conservation

Finding the balance between moose and a healthy forest.

Gros Morne is famous for its very large moose population but those same moose are preventing the park's forest from regrowing. Today, four years after implementing one of Parks Canada's largest wildlife management programs we are seeing signs of success. An aerial survey of the park in the spring of 2015 showed a 30% decline in the moose population. Our ecological monitoring also shows young trees are now growing taller and have less signs of moose browsing. It's good news for the park ecosystem.

Parks Canada responded with a large-scale moose population reduction. Since the program began in 2011, approximately 2400 moose have been harvested by qualified hunters. The moose population in the park has declined from 4800 to 3400 animals in 2015. Vegetation is also starting to respond. Our ecological monitoring program has shown that saplings of fast-growing hardwood species like birch, mountain ash, and mountain maple are growing larger and browsing rates are lower than they were

Moose were introduced to Newfoundland over a century ago and in Gros Morne they found abundant food, few predators, and protection from hunting. But all those moose took their toll on the health of the park's forests. Moose ate so many young trees that they prevented the forest from regrowing to form the next generation of forest. When mature trees died and fell down, nothing replaced them. By 2005, almost 65km² of the park had converted from mature closed-canopy forest to sparse, open habitat and grassland. Action was needed to protect the park's forests.

before the program started. Saplings of balsam fir, the park's main conifer species, are slower-growing and have yet to show a measurable change across the whole park landscape - but park staff are seeing improved fir growth in many areas where moose numbers have declined the most.

The moose reduction program will continue as Parks Canada monitors forest recovery. The goal is to maintain a healthy moose population at a more natural population density that allows for normal forest regeneration in the park.

Imagine 6000 years of human history

S. Sturges/Park Canada

Port au Choix National Historic Site

Stroll along a rugged coastline where many ancient cultures gathered to live off the land and from the sea. Discover the richness, the rarities and the delicacies unearthed by 6000 years of human history.

Making the Most of Your Visit

Plan to spend two to three hours at this natural and cultural site. The Visitor Centre features artefacts, exhibits, dioramas, and a film that tells the story of 6,000 years of aboriginal history.

- > Explore the limestone barrens and look for plants and fossils found nowhere else in Canada.
- > Walk in the footsteps of the ancient cultures who first inhabited this spectacular landscape.
- > Keep an eye out for sculptures offering glimpses into ancient Aboriginal ways of life.
- > Pick up the free Xplorers book for kids and have fun doing special activities while exploring the Site.

Open Daily:

June 15 - September 11 | 9 am - 5 pm

While in the Area

Port au Choix Heritage Centre, Port au Choix

This community museum tells the story of the French fishermen who jumped ship and settled in the area. A reconstructed French bread oven provides an opportunity to savour freshly baked bread and local jams. The centre also documents the resettlement and light keeper stories.

Torrent River Interpretation Centre and Nature Park, Hawkes Bay

Here you can learn about the community's involvement with Atlantic salmon conservation. Viewing windows at the fishway let you see salmon in their natural habitat as they journey upstream to spawn. Hiking trails and camp sites are also available.

Getting There

Follow the Viking Trail (Route 430) north past Hawkes Bay. At the intersection to Route 430-28, turn off and follow this route for 13 km to Port au Choix.

Step into your own saga at the only authenticated
Viking settlement in North America!

L'Anse aux Meadows National Historic Site

1000 years ago, the Norse landed on the shores of Newfoundland and explored an area they called Vinland. Their voyages to North America led to the first meeting between Aboriginal Peoples and Europeans. This marked a key chapter in worldwide exploration and settlement.

Making the Most of Your Visit

You can spend a few hours to a full day at the site. Begin at the visitor centre where exhibits trace the Norse voyages across the Atlantic. You can interact with a 3D model of the site, study the original artefacts that confirm the Viking presence, and see evidence and handle reproductions that reveal Aboriginal use of the site.

- > Watch the orientation video to learn of the site's discovery and establishment of the Norse base camp.
- > Join an interpreter on a tour of the archaeological site where evidence of the Viking presence endured for 1000 years.
- > Play along with the living history re-enactors in the full scale reproductions of Viking sod buildings to get a taste of life 1000 years ago.
- > Help the Blacksmith make a nail!
- > Listen to stories of long ago voyages to Vinland!

Getting There

Follow the Viking Trail to Route 436 turn-off (10 km south of St. Anthony). Follow Route 436 for 29 km to the site.
