Welcome tawâw

Prince Albert National Park is located on Treaty 6 territory, the lands of the nîhithaw (Woodland Cree), nêhiyawak (Plains Cree), Dene, Dakota and the homeland of the Métis. These lands and waters have been cared for by Indigenous peoples for generations and continue to be used and protected today.

We recognize the shared responsibility for the stewardship of the land and waters. Do your part to protect this special place.

Stay Safe and Protect Wildlife

- · Keep a safe distance from all wildlife. If an animal notices you and changes its behaviour by lifting its head, looking at you or listening to you, you are too close and should back away.
- · Travel in groups and make noise to let wildlife know you are nearby.
- · Late summer and early fall is elk and bison mating season; be especially aware of wildlife along trails at this time.
- If you encounter elk, moose or bison on a trail, let them know you're there by singing a song or whistling a tune. Walk slowly around them at a safe distance or return the way you came.
- Do not feed wildlife; they have a greater rate of survival and are healthier when they eat natural food.
- · Keep your pet on a leash and under physical control at all times. Dogs can provoke defensive behaviour in bears and other wildlife.
- Know what to do when you see a bear. Read the Black Bear Country brochure for more information on bears and how to prevent an encounter, available at any park facility.

Camping

Keep campsites clean. This means scented items or food are never left alone, even for a minute. Leaving scented items out puts visitors and wildlife at risk and can result in a fine.

Backcountry Camping

Campgrounds are equipped with picnic tables, pit toilets, firewood, fire pits and caches for securing wildlife-attractants.

All overnight visitors, including for random backcountry camping, must register at the Visitor Centre before leaving for the backcountry. Sites are first come, first served.

Fees: Backcountry fees apply to all overnight backcountry stays.

- · Check the weather, trail and fire conditions before heading into the backcountry.
- · Pack appropriate equipment, extra drinking water and
- food in case you're out longer than anticipated.
- Before your trip, please read the Black Bear Country brochure.
- · Take navigation tools and a first aid kit.
- REMEMBER cell phone coverage varies throughout the park. Do not rely on it.
- · Share a trip plan with trusted friends or family.

Help Protect Park Waters

All watercraft must have a mandatory AIS watercraft certification permit before entering Prince Albert National Park waters to help stop the spread of AIS.

This includes motorboats, canoes, kayaks, stand-up paddleboards, wind surfing boards and rowboats.

Pick up your free AIS watercraft certification permit at an entry gate, the visitor centre, marina or a self-certification station at a boat launch or day-use area.

Watercraft used outside of Saskatchewan in the past 45 days must undergo inspection and/or decontamination to meet permit conditions.

The Scenic Route Highway #263

(paved, no shoulders)

1 Shady Lake Trail 🦒 1.7 km loop

Hike down towards the lake in a counter-clockwise direction. East of the lake, a 1 km spur brings you to the 15 m high Height-of-Land Tower.

2 Height-of-Land Tower 🦒 🗐

Staircase, 60 m one way

Climb the 15 m tower for a view of Shady Lake and the mixed-forest canopy. This tower sits on the divide between the Churchill and Saskatchewan river systems.

3 Spruce River Highlands Trail 🦒 🗟 🚴 8.5 km loop

Ascend the path for 0.7 km and climb to the top of a 10 m tower. Below, the Spruce River meanders through a characteristically glacial landscape. The hills of the aspen parkland are radiant in their fall foliage. The trail then passes through rolling terrain, providing viewing opportunities of Anglin Lake.

4 Freight Tait Springs Trail 🦒 🚴

Early freighters stopped at this natural spring to rest and replenish water supplies. The spring water spills over its banks and flows onward to the Spruce River. The iron-rich springs are interesting to explore but take care not to harm this sensitive area.

5 Elk Trail 🦒 🙈 🙀

Trailhead to Fish Lake 13 km one way Trailhead to Camp Lake 15 km one way Walk through tall aspen stands, see views of Sandy (Halkett) Lake, and discover small wilderness lakes.

Cookson Road

(gravel, narrow, no shoulders, hills & curves)

6 Hunters Trail 🦒 💰 🙀

On this sandy looped trail you will experience the rejuvenating effects of forest fire on the landscape
