Message from the Superintendent

Hello, bonjour, aaniin!

It truly is an exciting year to visit Riding Mountain National Park and East Gate National Historic Site as well as other Parks Canada sites across the country. 2017 marks the 150th anniversary of Canadian Confederation and we invite you to take advantage of free admission all year long! It's the perfect time to get curious about Canada's unique natural treasures, hear stories from Indigenous cultures, learn to camp, and enjoy unique Parks Canada programs and events across the country. The possibilities are endless.

As you explore Riding Mountain National Park, I'm confident you will not be disappointed with the abundant experiences available to you. Whether you want to experience, see, relax, enjoy a tasty treat or a fabulous meal, you will find what you are looking for in Riding Mountain. Wasagaming, one of the few townsites located within a national park, is home to countless shops, hotels, restaurants, cafés, and even a log movie theatre. It also provides a great launching point onto Clear Lake, one of the park's jewels. While Wasagaming may be the first stop for most visitors, I encourage you to venture outside of town in to the vast landscape of trails and lakes in Riding Mountain.

One of my favourite places to visit is Lake Audy. From this one place it is possible to visit a herd of bison, camp alongside a lake, easily catch a fish or take in a beautiful view of the night sky.

Riding Mountain sits within the traditional territory of the Anishinabe People. We are in Treaty 2 territory, which is also at the crossroads of First Nations that belong to Treaty 1 and Treaty 4. Together, Parks Canada and the Coalition of First Nations work to protect and present Riding Mountain National Park. Don't forget to visit the Anishinabe Sharing Lodge, participate in cultural activities, or join in on the Aboriginal Day celebrations.

This year, with your free 2017 Discovery Pass, you can visit us in every season as each season brings its own magic and unique opportunities for discovery. I hope you enjoy your visit and the Canada 150 celebrations in Riding Mountain National Park. This is your park and we look forward to hosting you in 2017.

Sincerely,

Michaela Kent, Superintendent

MANITOBA ARTS COUNCIL
CONSEIL DES ARTS DU MANITOBA

Connect with some of Manitoba's Best Artists

Take part in an interactive theatre performance, listen to some live music, participate in a workshop or just sit back and enjoy a reading. These are just a few artistic opportunities for you to experience this season.

The Deep Bay Artists' Residency provides professional artists with an opportunity to be inspired and create their works in the park's setting. In return these professional artists invite visitors to interact with them and uniquely discover the park through their eyes and works.

This program is offered through the Manitoba Arts Council and Riding Mountain National Park. For more information go to www.artscouncil.mb.ca or drop by the Visitor Centre.

The Franklin Exhibition Interactive Exhibit

In September 2014, a breakthrough was made when an expedition led by Parks Canada discovered the wreck of HMS Erebus, one of the ships of the ill-fated Franklin Expedition of 1845 seeking the fabled Northwest Passage.

Parks Canada is pleased to announce that an interactive exhibit will be hosted in Riding Mountain National Park's Visitor Centre during May and June of 2017, Canada's 150th year of Confederation. The exhibit will share the story of this historic discovery, connecting the hearts and minds of visitors to an important part of Canada's cultural heritage.

Anishinabe of Riding Mountain

For the Anishinabe, Turtle Island, also known as North America, was chosen as their homeland by the Creator, Kichi Manitou. It is a common understanding that this has been home since time immemorial.

The Anishinabe have maintained traditional connections to the land and waters, and with Parks Canada work to protect and present Riding Mountain National Park.

The Coalition and Parks Canada

Parks Canada and the Coalition of First Nations with interest in Riding Mountain National Park, established the Riding Mountain Forum to share and put ideas into action.

The Coalition of First Nations with interests in Riding Mountain is composed of nations from Treaty 2, 4 and 1 including Keeseekoowenin Ojibway First Nation, Ebb and Flow First Nation, Waywayseecappo First Nation, Gambler First Nation, Rolling River First Nation, Tootinaowaziibeeng Treaty Reserve and Sandy Bay Ojibway First Nation.

The Forum is a small part of reconciliation between the Coalition and Parks Canada. In 2016, we celebrated the 10 year anniversary of the Riding Mountain Forum.

Visit us at the Anishinabe Sharing Lodge on 126 Ta-Wa-Pit Drive, Wasagaming for more information about activities and events.

Mashkode Bizhiki

Explore the Bison Range

The Anishinabe term for bison is “Mashkode Bizhiki” which translates to Prairies Cow. There are many ways to learn more about this special relationship between the bison, the land and Indigenous Peoples:

Opening of Riding Mountain

The official grand opening of the park was on July 26, 1933 with around 2,000 people in attendance! In 1932, the Parks Branch proposed an essay competition for children. The winner would win $50 in addition to having their entry selected as the new name of the Riding Mountain townsite. Edna Medd, a girl from Winnipegosis, suggested "Wasagaming," the Cree word for "clear water," which has been the name of the townsite ever since.

Parks Canada Celebrates 100 Years of Historic Sites

Parks Canada offers you 171 remarkable and diverse places where you can walk in the footsteps of history, interact with characters from the past and experience for yourself what makes Canada so unique. Stop by Riding Mountain National Park's very own National Historic Site, the East Gate Registration Complex. The East Gate sits at the edge of the Park by Highway 19, and is one of the last original gates left in Parks Canada. Special centennial events and programs will bring alive stories, people and events that shaped the Canada of today. Come join the celebration and connect with Canada's past in ways that leave you inspired, captivated and amazed.

History of Hockey in Clear Lake

One sunny winter day back in 1933, 10 men stood on the ice at Clear Lake in Riding Mountain National Park, got their picture taken, then played, and lost a couple of hockey games against the Intermediate hockey team from Dauphin. These men were part of the Riding Mountain Relief Camp All Stars, a group of hockey players from various camps around the lake who would play against teams from the surrounding communities.

Canada's national parks belong to all Canadians and Parks Canada protects and presents these treasures because they tell stories of who we are. Riding Mountain National Park was the only park at the time that had organized sports events for camp workers and on some Sundays, after church of course, a thousand people would gather around the boards to watch the games. Their goalie, Walter "Turk" Broda, from Brandon, would go on to win five Stanley Cups with the Toronto Maple Leafs.

Grey Owl

In 1931 Archibald Belaney, his wife Anahareo, and their two pet beavers, Rawhide and Jellyroll, lived at Beaver Lodge Lake where Grey Owl's Cabin is located.

Wishing Well

Toss a coin and make a wish—one of the oldest traditions in the Park.

Riding Mountain East Gate

Riding Mountain East Gate Registration Complex National Historic Site, built in 1930, is the only park gate of its kind left standing in Canada.

Depression Relief

The quick pace and wide spectrum of development at RMNP throughout its first decade could not have been accomplished outside the depression of the 1930s. Failing economic conditions had put a huge labour force out of work and resulted in widespread financial hardship among Canadians. The mounting severity of the situation prompted the Federal Government to enact relief measures designed to make work for the vast population of unemployed.

This federal aid was earmarked for relief work in Canada's National Parks. In 1930, the Unemployment Relief Act was passed. It supplied funds for the establishment of work camps in national parks such as Banff, Jasper, Waterton Lakes, Prince Albert and Riding Mountain National Park. Riding Mountain sustained the largest relief camp operation employing over 1,200 men on various projects between 1934-35.

Depression relief aid also took the form of direct funding supplied through the 1934 Public Works Construction Act. A large portion of these funds was in turn allocated for construction for specific types of buildings in the parks, namely administration and community buildings, garages, warden cabins and staff head quarters. Many of the local craftsmen hired to design and construct these buildings were Swedish immigrants who had settled in the vicinity of the park. With the aid of relief workers through the Depression relief program, park administrators were able to exploit the craftsmen's expertise in log and stone construction. In RMNP 86 buildings of various descriptions, including those at the east gate entrance, were built between 1930 and 1936 through this program.

Clear Lake COUNTRY

Your Guide to Clear Lake Country

Day 1

The lake is calling. Pack-up your car and head-out with friends to Riding Mountain National Park, because we're celebrating free entry in 2017! To celebrate Canada's 150th anniversary of Confederation, Parks Canada is providing free entry to National Parks and National Historic Sites across the country. Don't forget to book a place to stay! Riding Mountain has everything from quaint bed and breakfasts, boutique hotels, to stunning resorts. There is also plenty of frontcountry and backcountry campgrounds, and brand new glamping accommodations.

Day 2

It's time to hit the trails. Maybe you want to take it easy with a stroll around Ominnik Marsh, but if you're looking for adventure load-up your bikes and drive to Reeve's Ravine. We're promising you an epic bike ride with an even more epic view. Don't have a bike? We got you covered with multiple bike rental options around town. On the way back stop at Lake Katherine to grill some hot dogs over a bonfire located just steps away from the lake.

Day 3

Clear Lake doesn't just have the best trails, but the best shopping too. Cruise down the streets of Wasagaming, Riding Mountain's townsite, and weave in and out of some of the best shops in Manitoba. Something is guaranteed to catch your eye. Local business owners have stocked their shelves with everything from designer brands to local wares. Just outside Wasagaming is the town of Onanole where you can also grab pizza, ribs, or head to the grocery store. Try a round of mini golf, browse the shops, or hike back to Wasagaming via the Onanole trail.

Day 4

It's time to relax and Clear Lake has just what you need. Head to the spa for a mud bath, facial, and pedicure to relax both your body and mind. Or perhaps the Clear Lake beach is more your speed. Located off Wasagaming Drive, Clear Lake beach is known for its crystal clear waters and beautiful sunsets. Stop by the marina and pick from an array of boat rentals from kayaks to paddle boards.

Day 5

All good things must come to an end, but just because check-out is at 11 a.m. doesn't mean it's time to leave. There's always time to pick-up some treats from the local bakeries or local handmade goods. Make sure you stop at the Parks Canada Visitor Centre and ask about planning your fall or winter adventure in Riding Mountain National Park.

The Riding Mountain Unesco Biosphere Reserve

Riding Mountain National Park is the core protected area of the UNESCO (United Nations Educational, Scientific, and Cultural Organization) designated Riding Mountain Biosphere Reserve, which also includes the 12 rural municipalities surrounding the Park. The Biosphere Reserve fosters and encourages a sustainable, community-based regional economy, with high biodiversity on a rural landscape in order to inspire a positive future by connecting people and nature today.

Life is an amazing series of connections. Between people, between people and nature, between knowledge and action, across time and place. If these connections break, we put our collective quality of life at risk. If we keep them strong, we build a future that inspires us.

The UNESCO Riding Mountain Biosphere Reserve is a place where people share a way of living with nature that builds a future we are proud of by championing life, empowering people and modeling solutions together.

Community events and activities:

- At the Farm Gate: Farmers' markets and a listing of local producers and artisans in the Biosphere Reserve.
- Use of native species plants in landscaping.
- Community garden program.
- Adult education workshops and school programs to raise awareness of the conservation of biodiversity.
- New! Canada 150 selfie contest! Visit rmb.ca for more details.

For more information call 204-636-2085 or visit rmb.ca.

Projects in the Park

In 2017, visitors in Riding Mountain National Park in 2017 will notice improvements to infrastructure as a result of the Government of Canada's commitment to preserving our national treasures. These improvements are part of Parks Canada's $3 billion investment over five years to support infrastructure work to heritage, visitor, waterway and highway assets located within national historic sites, national parks and national marine conservation areas across Canada. This investment addresses outstanding maintenance and will improve service to visitors as they join us in celebrating Canada 150.

Campers in the Wasagaming Campground will enjoy newly surfaced roads, upgrades to shower and washroom facilities and the addition of water and electrical service to 128 campsites. The addition of visitor facilities at Mount Agassiz and the East Gate Registration Complex National Historic Site will provide new opportunities to explore the unique natural and cultural history of Manitoba's escarpment.

Visitors will also notice ongoing improvements to Highway 10 and to infrastructure in the townsite of Wasagaming. We would like to remind our visitors to slow down around construction, keep a safe distance from workers and equipment, to respect area closures and to be patient when encountering delays. We are doing our best to minimize construction in busy areas during the peak visitor season as we work to maintain a quality visitor experience today and for the future in RMNP.

For more information about infrastructure projects in Riding Mountain, please contact us at 204-848-7275, or visit our website at pc.gc.ca/riding.

Doing your Part

Don't Move a Mussel

Stop aquatic invasive species before launching and before leaving.

Zebra mussels (Dreissena polymorpha) are a Prohibited Species under The Fisheries Act. Possession and release of zebra mussels in Manitoba are illegal.

Help protect our precious lakes, rivers, and wetlands by taking a few important precautions when moving watercrafts, trailers, and aircrafts, or before moving any water-based equipment and gear such as docks, nets, bait buckets, ropes, buoys, life jackets, anchors and totes between water bodies.

1. Clean and inspect watercraft, trailer, aircraft, and all water-based equipment or gear. Remove all plants, animals, mud. Rinse using high pressure hot water for at least 2 minutes.
2. Drain all water from watercraft, equipment, and gear including the motor livewell, bilge, bait buckets and toss before transporting. Pull drain plugs and open valves and/or operate pumps to expel water.
3. Dry watercraft, trailer and all water-based gear and equipment for at least five days in the hot sun, 18 days in the spring / fall, or freeze for 13 days.
4. Dispose of unwanted live bait and worms in the trash, and dump all water from bail buckets and totes on land away from any water body.

Fishing in Riding Mountain

Riding Mountain has many fish friendly lakes throughout the park. Anglers are required to have a national park fishing permit. Tackle restrictions include no use or possession of barbed hooks, and no lead tackle under 50g. For more information visit pc.gc.ca/riding

Clear Lake Living Waters

Clear Lake's crystal clear waters attract thousands of visitors every year. Parks Canada, Keeseekoowenin Ojibway First Nation, as well as many stakeholders and volunteers, are working to protect the cultural and ecological qualities of Clear Lake.

Initiatives to keep the lake clear:

- Boat emission guidelines
- Aquatic monitoring
- Improvements to wastewater treatment facilities
- Raising public awareness about boating safety and etiquette
- The use of lake friendly products

The efforts to protect Clear Lake emphasize the value of traditional and local knowledge partnered with scientific research.

Do Not Move Firewood

Invasive forest pests (non-native pests and diseases) can have serious negative impacts on forests, both in your home town and in wilderness areas such as Riding Mountain National Park.

Currently, pests such as the emerald ash borer (EAB) and Asian long-horned beetle are threatening Canadian forests. The EAB has killed millions of ash trees in North America, and is spreading toward Manitoba quickly. Forest pests such as the emerald ash borer can be transported to unaffected areas through the movement of firewood.

When you are vacationing this summer, please purchase firewood locally and leave it where you brought it.

Parks Canada staff are working closely with visitors to keep aquatic invasive species (AIS) like zebra mussels out of park waters through watercraft inspections and strict decontamination procedures.

For information visit pc.gc.ca/riding or call 204-848-7275.

Protect Yourself from Severe Weather

Severe weather conditions often develop during Manitoba summers. Thunder, lightning, hail and even tornadoes can develop quickly and have the potential to be extremely dangerous.

For your safety, be prepared and plan ahead for what you and your family should do if severe weather approaches:

1. Know the warning signs

- Thunderstorms (often accompanied by hail, lightning, high winds and heavy rain) — Hot and/or muggy days and warm nights often indicate storms are building.
- Tornadoes – Watch for an extremely dark sky (sometimes with green or yellow clouds), a rumbling or whistling sound, and a funnel cloud following heavy rain or hail.

2. Tune in to media warnings

Environment Canada monitors the weather. If you suspect severe weather is imminent, turn on your radio to any national, regional or local station (like CBC 990 AM) and listen for public alerts. You can also check the Environment Canada or Weather Network websites for current warnings and watches.

3. Take shelter

- During a thunderstorm, take shelter in your vehicle, RV, camper, or a sturdy building. Only use your tent as a last resort.
- In case of a tornado, seek shelter in a sturdy building - not your vehicle, RV, camper, or tent as they can be lifted and thrown. If you cannot find shelter, lie down in a ditch or other low-lying area that is free of rising water and away from your vehicle or RV, hug the ground, and cover your head.

For more information see www.pc.gc.ca/riding or www.gov.mb.ca/severeweather/ or connect with us: twitter.com/RidingNP or Facebook.com/RidingNP.

Visitor Safety

Three Steps for a Safe Trip

1. Trip Planning

Plan your travel route. Know the terrain and conditions.
Check the weather and always fill out a trip plan.

2. Training

Obtain the knowledge and skills you need before heading out.
Know and stay within your limits.

3. Taking the Essentials

Always carry the essentials and know how to use them.
Add equipment specific to your chosen activity, season and location.

Black Legged Ticks

Black legged ticks can carry Lyme disease and there is a chance that an infected tick may bite you while in Southern Manitoba. To reduce the risk of Lyme disease infection take steps such as wearing appropriate clothing and tick repellent, doing tick checks after going outdoors, removing any ticks found, and monitoring any bites for the ‘bull’s eye’ rash that often occurs after infection. For more information visit the Riding Mountain National Park website or pick up a pamphlet at any of our information kiosks.
